

LA-NY FOOTRACE 2011

A footrace from Los Angeles to New York, 5200 km, 70 days. A little like Forrest Gump, a little like any pilgrim on his road, because after all the road is made just for let us see the world.

16 runners from 6 different countries. Only 8 off them at the finish line, exhausted as survivors after a shipwreck, happy as if they were all winners. The race ended in New York on August 27 after hundreds of hours of running, was not only an hard competition that has brought the bodies of athletes at the limit of endurance, but also a journey across a continent that it is not like we guess.
